Objective

Aspiring Air National Guard / Air Force Reserve pilot currently pursuing a B.S. in Economics at the University of Nevada, Reno. Grew up near Naval Air Station Fallon, developing a strong interest in military aviation and service. Seeking opportunities to interview with Air National Guard or Reserve flying units for future officer and pilot positions, bringing technical aptitude, attention to detail, and proven reliability in structured, team-oriented environments.

Military-Focused Qualifications

- Clear goal to commission as a U.S. Air Force officer and compete for an Undergraduate Pilot Training slot through an Air National Guard or Air Force Reserve unit.
- Comfortable working with checklists, procedures, and standard operating practices developed through IT and customer-facing roles that require accuracy, documentation, and adherence to policy.
- Demonstrated reliability and accountability handling backup media and company hardware, supporting the protection and continuity of critical systems.
- Experience balancing academics, employment, and community service, showing strong time management and the ability to perform in high-tempo, deadline-driven environments.
- Strong interest in aviation, technology, and systems—well-suited to modern Air Force aircraft and mission support roles.
